Clemenceau Urges Call of League

PREMIER FOR WILSON FOR PRESIDENT

Writes House Urging That Wilson Preside at Meeting Here

TO MEET IN NOVEMBER

Thinks it Would be Beneficial to Have Statesmen Get Together

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS — Premier Clemenceau has written Col. E. M. House, urging that a meeting of the league of nations be held in Washington under the chairmanship of President Wilson early in November. The premier's letter, which outlines his reasons for the calling of such a meeting was officially published today. It was written September 4, 1919 and follows:

My Dear Friend:
It seems well to communicate to you reflections suggested by decisions to be taken concerning the society of nations.
It seems to me that the first meeting of the society in Washington under the presidency of Mr. Wilson should be called at the earliest possible moment. Owing to the hopes this society has caused to be born and to facilitate the solution of international problems facing all nations, I would suggest the meeting be held the first week of the coming November and would propose the invitation of the greatest possible number of statesmen whose names were associated with the creation of the society of nations.
Undoubtedly there would be only a small amount of current business to transact but the program would have this capital advantage:

It would put in action the society, which still exists only on paper.
Finally don't you think it would be a great advantage for the executive members of the society of nations to be enabled to exchange views on the general direction of the line to be pursued? No man is better qualified than President Wilson to remind the peoples at the opening of the first assembly that the society of nations will have peace and influence in times of peace only if it succeeds in maintaining and developing the feeling of international solidarity from which it was born during the war at the call of Mr. Wilson. I myself, shall be happy to second him in this task.
(Signed)
Georges Clemenceau.

BOSTON TO SEE BELGIUM PARTY THERE SUNDAY

Many Dates Cancelled—Will be in San Francisco Oct. 14

NEW YORK — Visits to places of interest occupied the time today of King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold of Belgium.

The Royal party will depart for Boston tonight, arriving there tomorrow morning.

Boston and Buffalo will be the only cities in the east other than New York to be visited by the King and his party. The king's decision to cancel engagements because of the illness of the president did not apply to the programs arranged for him in these cities.

They will spend tomorrow in Boston leaving tomorrow night for Buffalo, where they will remain until Monday evening when they depart for California. On Oct. 14, the Belgian ruler will be formally received by the city of San Francisco. The change of plans eliminates visits to Moline, Ill., Seattle, Spokane, Davenport, Iowa, Kansas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is thought probable that some of these cities may be included in the itinerary on the return trip east.

CROWD PACKS GYM TIGHT AT BIG WELCOME

Hundreds Fail to Squeeze Into Hall at First Mass-meeting

Hundreds of students were turned away from the gym last night at the greatest Varsity Welcome ever staged at Wisconsin. The drill hall was filled to capacity and the crowd overflowed into the entries and hallways.

The introduction of President E. A. Birge by Dean George C. Sellery was the signal for prolonged applause followed by a rousing sky-rocket and the singing of the Varsity Toast.

Birge Lands Bonus
President Birge, in his speech of welcome, stressed the significance of the bonus bill when he said, "There are many things upon which you may congratulate yourselves in being at the university this year. Some of these things are common to all the universities, such as the increase in the size of the classes. But there is one thing that you can say that can be said by students of no other university in any other state or country in the world. You can say 'I came to Wisconsin the year the legislature passed the soldier bonus bill.'"

Norsemen Take Bit O' Homeland and "Gud" Cookery With Varsity Courses

WISCONSIN'S melting pot of internationalism, wherein good fellowship is cooked up with ingredients from all corners of the earth, has poured out its newest university organization of native sons from across the seas in the formation of Norwegian House at 703 State street.

Fifteen students—they all bane gud fellas and all hail from the land of the midnight sun—are charter members of the new group, of which Finn Aanesen is president.

The membership represents all native Norwegian citizens at present enrolled in the university. They intend after receiving their education to return to their northern land, carrying with them the spirit of Wisconsin.

The purpose of organizing, according to Aanesen, was to make Norway felt in university life during their school days here, and then to reverse the situation and make the best spirit of Wisconsin felt in Norway when they return home after completing their studies.

Many of the men knew each other before coming to America. Thirteen of the fifteen were residents of Norway's capital, Christiania.

Norwegian House is a little Norway in itself, with pictures of the fjords and mountains of the Scandinavian peninsula decorating the walls, Norwegian periodicals in the lounging room, and the spirit of their home land transplanted as far as is possible to the American surroundings. Though thousands of miles from home, the men even enjoy good things "just like mother used to make," as a result of their foresight in importing a Norwegian cook to keep their appetites well tickled.

And those appetites are going to gain even more than their present robustness, when after snow has fallen, Norwegian House members get out to show the rest of the university what real ski sport is, as skiing is done in the old country. All are expert ski men.

Alf Ihlsen is steward and Thomas Norberg, treasurer of the house. Other members are Joe Ihlsen, Ansel Taranger, Harold Bryn, Hieronymus Holter, Adolph Holter, Kristian Hendricksen, Sverre Rolland, Sverre Strom, Carl Hoff, Sven Kvaven, Arne Brinck, and Hans Gude.

FRENCH HOUSE FREE OF DEBT IN NEW START

$3,000 Raised to Furnish Home in Parisian Style

The French house moved from the Delta Upsilon house to new quarters at 313 N. Mills street, and has begun the second year of its existence free from debt and completely furnished by gifts from alumnae, members of the French department and others interested in the promotion of French culture.

Approximately $3,000 was raised under the direction of Miss Frances Perkins, university regent, to equip the house. This money has been expended under the house committee, composed of Mrs. E. B. McGilvary, Mrs. Hobart Johnson, Mrs. Carl Johnson, and Mrs. F. Jacobs.

The bedrooms have been furnished as memorial rooms, by individuals who have given furniture to the house. Among those who have contributed to these rooms are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Greenleaf, Mrs. Selma Southing, D. C. Halverson, Miss E. Conrad, Miss L. M. Gay and Soiree de Mercet, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Carl, Miss Helen Langer, and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Comstock.

Seventeen girls are now living at the French house. At a house meeting last night, the following officers for the year were elected: Hazel Brashear, president; Lillian Bissell, treasurer; Ruth Hurburt, vice president; and Emilie Dejean, French representative.

300 SOPHS MEET, THEN ALL QUERY 'WHO CALLED IT?'

Three hundred sophomores were victims of Dame Rumor and old Jupe Pluvius yesterday noon when they gathered in 165 Main hall to attend an announced meeting.

As the officers of the class are not in school with the exception of Dorothy Sumner, vice-president, it is a mystery where the call for meeting had its origin. When the Sophs climbed resolutely up hill at 12:30, the elements took a hand and administered a dash of water that proved a veritable "lake" party.

H. T. Salvage took charge of the meeting, which turned into a "traditions enforcement" gathering. It was decided not to begin action against the fresh until all had an opportunity to get caps which will be not later than noon, Monday.

REPAIRS FOR MUSIC HALL COST $35,000

Plans to remodel Music hall are now completed but work will not be begun until next semester, so that the building will be out of use only one term.

There will be no alteration of the studio part of the building, which was remodeled a few years ago, but the auditorium will be practically rebuilt without changing the general style of the exterior. It will be a small auditorium, seating about 800. A larger auditorium is now being considered under the projected Union Memorial plans.

The exterior of the building will be altered only slightly, the main entrance being on Park street instead of on the north side, but the general appearance of the old chapel will not be changed. A budget of $35,000 has been appropriated for the work, which will begin as soon after the close of the present semester as labor and building material conditions permit.

Varsity Freshman Nearly Asphyxiated

Sophomore hazers cannot be blamed for the near-death that overtook Ralph Rowe, freshman, who was revived from the effects of asphyxiation last night. The fire department arrived with the pull-motor in time to aid the treatment of Dr. F. B. Taylor and save Rowe. Rowe left the gas jet open after he had extinguished the light on going to bed at his rooming house, 311 Park St. Fellow roomers followed the smell of gas into his room and found him unconscious. He was able to be about this morning.

Use Discretion in Picking Mushrooms

People should use much discretion in selecting the different kinds of edible fungi which the mild weather and the heavy rains have caused to spring up every where and which are delighting mushroom lovers, according to Charles E. Brown, curator of the State Historical museum. There are at least seven kinds of edible fungi now appearing above ground, and the wooded country is full of poisonous and semi-poisonous varieties, probably 600 in all, 50 kinds.

Touring Car $1,110.00

There are many reasons why Dort is considered a very desirable car to own.

They all hinge on certain inherent qualities that give this car a value distinctly above the ordinary.

Their value is revealed only in actual service. The Dort maintains its even performance and riding comfort through hard usage over long periods of time.

It needs service-attention with gratifying infrequency.

It registers the same high mileage per gallon of gas and quart of oil month after month. That is why it has won the good-will of its thousands of owners.

WISCONSIN TOBACCO MARKET

EDGERTON — The tobacco harvest closed under ideal weather conditions. The late tobacco had every opportunity of climate to do its best, and the conditions are as favorable as they could be for the curing process. More rains have fallen, but the weather continues mild. What is needed now is a week of bright and warm weather and the late tobacco will have a chance of curing properly, which was hardly looked for some time ago. Another week or two without a killing frost will practically insure the crops now well housed.

The prospects of any buying of the new crop have not changed. It seems that the market has settled down for good this fall, and that nothing of importance in this respect will take place before the tobacco is in the bundle.

Sampling of the 1918 crop is as good as finished. The crop when housed last fall promised to be one of the best crops in the state in many years. Now that it has passed through the sweat it shows up well. That it should not be entirely free from black rot was not to be expected, yet it is the kind of tobacco the trade wants. Some of the binder grades are spoken for, but any large movement in the bulk of other grades has not yet appeared. Quite a portion of the crop was bought at fancy figures and must bring a good price in order to leave a margin for handling.

Shipments out of storage reach 14 cars of cased goods.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

We do not make cheap cars for the simple reason that we have no faith in cheap materials or cheap workmanship. As we have said repeatedly, we believe that Price and Self Respect have an actual market value, so we build these qualities into every Paige that leaves our plant.

With such a policy there can be only one result. Our cars go into service with an honest heritage and a limitless capacity for hard, gruelling work. They endure because they are fit to endure. They prove, day by day, that they are worthy of an honorable name plate and the confidence that has been placed in them.

YES!! BUT HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN ANYTHING?

Now Mr. Man! You don't want that car of yours to go wrong on a country road or any place on a cold day. Many a car has but you don't want to be an unlucky fellow, do you?

Well, a leaky radiator can cause more trouble in ten minutes than 4 tires can in ten days. Do you want your radiator to freeze and crack everything to pieces? Of course you don't. But that is just what it will do if it isn't in good shape.

Better stop that leak today; that's none too soon. You'll never be sorry. Remember! An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

We can do it for you and do it right without robbing you.

What is happening in Russia now is the penalty for years of wrong and repression, declared Captain Moratle Winslow, who recently returned from Archangel, addressing a meeting of the Woman's club yesterday afternoon in the Woman's building. Russian affairs are being turned upside down, he continued, and will continue to be so until some one comes along who can handle the situation. Bolsheviks are much the same genus homo as other people, most of them disclaiming altogether the name of Bolshevik. Whatever may and can be said against them, Capt. Winslow asserted, they play fair in a fight.

Speaking briefly on the economic situation in Russia, Capt. Winslow explained that there are now three kinds of rubles in the country: the Nicholas coin, relics of the reign of the Czar, the Kerensky ruble; and the Bolshevik ruble. My a crafty and clever manipulation of these coins, numbers of soldiers willing to risk being caught and punished accordingly, are making fortunes.

The morale of the men in Russia, Captain Winslow declared, that it was really better in most cases than that of our soldiers in France. The American soldiers, for some time, fraternized well with the French, always taking sides with them against the English, but when the French troops refused to go into the front lines against the Reds, the fraternization almost ceased. The British, he declared, look down upon Americans, creating a good deal of friction. They have much the same attitude also toward their colonial troops. The captain was enthusiastic in his praise of the Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross. He declared that one of the chief difficulties of the expedition was caused by the great quantity of whiskey that was sent to the British soldiers. He concluded his speech by saying that although the expedition was undoubtedly mismanaged, it would be better to have six such mismanaged affairs, than to have another world war which would be sure to come about unless the League of Nations is ratified.

Ray-O-Lite, the trade mark of the French Battery, was the name adopted by the French Battery girls for the club formed at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday with the assistance of Mrs. Frances L. Toy, industrial secretary. A committee of three, the Misses Annie Olson, Irene Puk and Miss Sirgestad, was elected to draw up the club constitution, which will be presented at the next meeting, Thursday evening. Meetings will be held Thursday evening by the club, the purpose of which is educational, recreation and service. The club is entirely self governing in every way. It chose red and white as its colors and will soon make up its club yell. It will give pageants, plays, carnivals, teas, club suppers, play basketball, baseball or volleyball; study famous women, personal efficiency, matters concerning the home, travel, health, citizenship, city history and other interesting matters, always making its own choice. Another branch of the club that the club may undertake if it chooses is cooperation with other organizations for social betterment, a loan fund to club girls for illness or education, and entertainments at public institutions, and the study of girls of other countries. Sunday afternoons there will be story hour, singing and discussion hour, vespers and tea for any girl who wants it, at the Y. W. C. A. Miss Eleanor Ramsey will be advisor to the Ray-O-Lite club, which starts with 82 charter members.

Other groups that will form similar clubs are girls of the Gisholt Co., who met at the Y. W. C. A. last evening; girls from the Teckemeyer Candy Co., who met there Monday evening; young women from the Badger Shoe Co., who will form their club Tuesday evening; girls from the Three F and Alford laundries, who organize there Wednesday; and girls all over the city doing house work meet Friday evening. Thursday night is to be industrial evening at the Y. and all kinds of frolics and good times will be enjoyed, the girls being entirely independent in choosing their officers, studies, games and all other work.

"Playing with Fire"

In their romance of love and youth, what did they care for feuds? What though the Whipples and Pren-dergasts shot on sight and made the mountains ring with their songs of hate? Fie on the feud!
So said love. But when Cupid fanned the flames of hate that had smoldered for years, then the heart of youth thumped and pounded with adventure.
A picture filled with laughs and thrills, with the rugged strength of the hills and the charm of young love in spring-time. Come!

Expect Hard Fight In Missouri Valley

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Coach Indian Schulte of the Missouri University Tigers believes that the Missouri valley conference season will produce one of the hardest fought races for championship honors ever known. The Tiger coach is yet non-committal, although it is known indications point to the return to school of a large number of the men he depended on two years ago. The Tiger backfield may see Bill Collins, Harry Viner and Stanowski in the lineup, although the three men do not yet know whether they can come to Columbia in time for the opening kickoff. McAnaw, Greenwood, Peterson, Gilmer, Shy and Marshall are expected to return.

Cross Country Squad Trains for Gophers

Coach George Bresnahan has finished the first week of easy training with his varsity cross country squad and next Monday will begin a little harder practice for the first dual meet with Minnesota at Camp Randall the day of the Homecoming football game between Minnesota and Wisconsin, Nov. 1. Burr, captain, Dayton, Crump, Dennis, Irmstadt, Wille, Taylor, Brothers, Meyers, C. A. Blodgett, and "Bob" Hodge, Powell, Stevens, Emmons, Hardy, Crabtree are among the men who have reported for practice. Babcock, a Harvard cross country man, at present an instructor in the university, is out running and helping the men work into shape.

EXPECT CICOTTE TO PITCH TODAY

Gleason Confident White Sox Star Can Come Back and Win

CHICAGO—Indications Friday night were that either Hod Eller or Walter Rucker would be Manager Gleason's pitching selection for the fourth contest.

While no announcement was made it was generally believed that Manager Gleason of the Sox would send Eddie Cicotte to the mound in an effort to even up the series. Cicotte was bombarded heavily in the opener at Cincinnati on Wednesday and was taken out in the fourth inning.

"Cicotte was not 'right' at Cincinnati, but I have every confidence in his ability to give the Reds a beating," said Manager Gleason Friday night. "The Reds are not invincible. We proved that. Losing the first two games stirred my players to a fighting pitch. We'll come right back at the Reds on Saturday and land another game."

Members of the Reds were in a belligerent mood when they reached their dressing rooms after the game. They said that Friday's victory would be the only one for Chicago.

"The Sox cried that the breaks of the game were against them when they lost the first two contests to us," said Manager Moran, "but you will hear no such wail from us. The 'breaks' didn't beat us. It was Kerr. He pitched a wonderful game and should be given due credit."

KERR SHUTS OUT PROUD REDS, 3-0

Diminutive White Sox Hurler Puts Chicago Back in World Series Race

CHICAGO—Dick Kerr lifted the White Sox back into the world's championship race on Friday by twirling one of the finest games in the history of the great baseball classic. The former Brewer not only hurled a miraculous game but so masterly was his southpawing that he shut out the proud Reds with three widely scattered hits.

The victory has put the Sox on their toes and they will be a tough team to beat, whether their pitchers come through or not. Kerr's sensational showing has put new life in the men of Comiskey and they had all their old time confidence and pep back Friday night.

RIPON TO TEST BADGER METTLE IN FIRST GAME

Usher, Stoughton Boy, and Former Wisconsin Player, in Ripon Line-up

Wisconsin's 1919 football season will be officially opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon when Coach Harold "Ole" Olson, former Wisconsin football and basketball star lines up his Ripon team on Camp Randall field.

The contest will be the first of the season for both teams, and although Coach Richards is not particularly worried about the outcome, he nevertheless expects the Ripon team to give a good account of itself. Coach Olson has several men of experience on university and service teams and predicts that his men will give the varsity a hard fight.

Usher Here Last Year

The Ripon team will arrive in Madison at 12:40 this noon just in time to get ready for the game. Among the names in the line-up familiar to Wisconsin students is that of Usher, who played a half-back position on last year's S. A. T. C. team. Bonan and Bannack are former army captains and Kenyon, center, won considerable fame as a service player last year.

The lineup for Wisconsin as it appears above is subject to "change without notice" in view of the fact that Coach Richards will doubtless give practically every man on the squad a trial. In the line Sponholz, Olson, Meyers, and Mongavin will all appear before the end of the game, and Smith, Elliott and Collins will be given a chance in the backfield.

The hard rains of the last week have made the football field rather soggy, but both teams should be at home under such conditions since they have been forced to practice on slippery fields all week. The varsity playing field will be used for the first time tomorrow.

CARROLL SAVES DAY FOR M. H. S.

Enters Beloit Game Despite Injured Shoulder—Final Score, 7-7

BELOIT—An intercepted forward pass in the second period enabled Beloit high school to score a touchdown and goal kick that threatened to defeat Madison high school here Friday until "Red" Carroll, Orange and Black star who has been out of the game with an injured shoulder, went in at quarter-back and put the ball across in the third period. Schulz kicked goal, and the game ended a 7 to 7 tie.

Carroll's touchdown was made possible when McFadden, subbing for Friedl at half-back, picked up a Beloit fumble and ran 30 yards to within four white lines of the Beloit goal. Dyer carried the ball 10 more yards and Carroll went the remaining 10 for the touchdown.

Gunderson's failure to cover up after an attempted forward pass in the second period was the reason Finnegan, Beloit full-back, was able to score the Beloit touchdown. Beloit made but one first down to about ten by Madison. Madison played sluggish ball the first half but pepped up with Carroll at quarter in the second half. Washington tried a drop-kick in the last minutes of play. Carroll hurt his injured shoulder again, but expects to be in shape for the game with Stoughton at Stoughton next Saturday.

McCORMICK SEES NO

HOPE TO END DISPUTE

The feud which has existed between the Oil-Kipps and the Burgess Battery nine over the claims of the Oil-Kipps to the city baseball championship are not likely to be definitely decided in the opinion of Manager Stuart McCormick of the Burgess who declares that the Kipps have dodged a game with the Burgess ever since the second game between the two when the Kipps won 11 to 0, a week after the Burgess had defeated the Kipps, 8 to 7.

WHAT IS THE POLICY?

WHAT ARE the plans of the Administration at Washington in regard to our military policy? Contradictory statements are constantly being issued by those in authority until the people of this country no longer know whether we are to be turned into a militarist nation or to see a reduction in army strength and armaments in accordance with the most democratic ideals.

On one hand President Wilson assures us that if we adopt the League of Nations, conscription will disappear; American soldiers will never be sent overseas and universal military service will be unnecessary.

But at this very moment his democratic henchmen are presenting a resolution in the Senate Foreign Affairs committee giving the president the right to send at once to Armenia any number of American soldiers. Furthermore, these democratic leaders are using every influence to aid Secretary of War Baker and the war department in putting through the universal military training plan without the slightest regard for the League of Nations or the statements of President Wilson.

Another bill fathered by Gen. Peyton C. March is being pushed forward which provides for automatic conscription of everyone between the ages of 18 and 45 the instant that war is declared without any special act of Congress. As a joker this bill carries the requirements of censorship, and suppression of the press and public opinion which characterized the last war.

More than that, the Chief of Staff declares that the administration would consider it constitutional to have universal military training for the youth of America without enrolling them in the standing army.

What, then, are the plans of the administration? It seems that in its inconsistency it has adopted every angle of the military question and is waiting for the wind of public opinion to blow it in the popular direction. If such is the case, it is the duty of American citizens to make very evident their attitude on militarism in order that the propaganda of munition manufacturers and profiteers may not be mistaken at Washington as the voice of the people.

COMING HOME TO ROOST

WITHIN a month of the time when the governor of Nebraska told a delegation of farmers that he would not act to uphold the law against mob violence, the mayor of Omaha was being dragged through the streets with a rope around his neck and with the blood spurting from his nose and mouth, the city courthouse was on fire and a negro was being hanged.

The governor probably thought he had cleverly squirmed out of a tight hole when he told these farmers that they could bring civil suits for damages and save the state from the trouble of enforcing the law. Violence against farmers was not so bad anyway. Minnesota politicians had won a political victory by it and given it respectability.

But other elements than the politicians were quick to sense the fact that the law against mob violence was suspended. The Omaha disgrace is a direct result and the responsibility for it goes straight to the governor who refused to live up to his oath of office. The whole country has been swept by a mobbing and lynching craze and the responsibility goes likewise to high officials at Washington and state capitals. They never really prosecuted a case of violence which labeled itself pro-war. Many a reactionary goes up and down the country talking about fists instead of arguments with entire freedom from arrest. And the result is such as to shame any civilized country.

THE JOKER

THE administration army bill is far worse than might be thought from newspaper reports. When the thing which special privilege wants is unpopular, the lawmakers pretend to meet popular will while they put "sleepers" in the law which will do the work at the proper time.

This bill calls for a standing army of 500,000—quite a comedown many might think from the imperialistic plans of the interests as represented by the Security league and the Navy league. Then there is the provision for compulsory training for all boys of 19. A good many over 19 and who have no sons approaching this age might feel that this is not so bad, either, but now comes one of the jokers. The 19-year-old boys remain a part of the army for two years subject to call by the president for any duty. There are about 600,000 boys of 19; so this gives the president an army of 1,200,000 which he can use anywhere without a declaration of war by congress.

STOCKHOLDERS ALIVE

APPLETON—With the merger of the First National and Commercial National banks comes the information that out of the eight principal original stockholders of that latter bank in 1881 only two are alive. H. G. Freeman of this city and S. K. Wambold of New York. One of the eight was the late Dr. A. H. Levings of Milwaukee.

The original stockholders were in addition to the above; E. C. Goff, president; J. H. Wharton, W. G. Whittier, Grand Rapids, D. O. Millmore.

Of Richard S. Lawrence—Witnesses examined in continuation of citation inquiry as to alleged securities and hearing continued to October 17.

John H. Fitzpatrick, testifying before senate labor committee.

John H. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national committee which organized the strike of the steel workers, was the spokesman for the striking employees at the investigation being conducted by the senate labor committee. He is shown answering the committee's questions. Senator Phipps of Colorado and Senator William Kenyon of Iowa are on the extreme right of photo. Kenyon introduced the resolution to investigate the strike. On Fitzpatrick's left are seated William B. Rubin, counsel for steel workers (writing) and Senators Walsh of Massachusetts and Jones of New Mexico.

THE WEEK

The Omaha Riot—A Victim of Autocracy—England Gets Lion's Share—A Reminder of William Tell—French Soldiers Refuse to Shoot Woman.

Beatrice, Neb., is not as close to Omaha geographically as is the connection between the recent riots in these two cities. Back of both is the spiteful governor who is so little American that he would violate his oath of office for political advantage.

Organized farmers had planned a meeting in Beatrice and a silk-hat mob chased the speakers out with the aid of officers of the law. A delegation of farmers called upon the governor at Lincoln for prosecution of the guilty and he refused to act. He declared that the farmers themselves could enforce the law by bringing civil suits against the offenders after they had found them, but that the state would do nothing. Thus was violence given the encouragement it needed for the dirty work at Omaha. Ordinary roughnecks were not slow in realizing that the law was suspended by failure to enforce it.

Two months ago a Louisiana village appointed a committee to officiate at a lynching, and Governor Bilbo, who was warned about it in advance, refused to raise a hand. Scarcely less spectacular has been the failure of the Wilson administration to track down offenders in any crime labeled pro-war or in violent activity against organized farmers and workers. Where the administration has been goaded into making a statement, it has done so in language which really gives mild praise to the mobbers. Thus when Secretary Glass referred to soldier riots in New York City he put the blame on those who made what special privilege calls "incendiary" speeches.

On such men rests the responsibility for the wave of mob violence which is sweeping the country, for by non-enforcement they have virtually repealed the laws safeguarding public order.

The first person killed by the steel trust's private gunmen in their efforts to discredit the steel strikers by violence was Charles Mazurek, a returned soldier. He was shot when a helpless crowd of men, women and children, standing in a public place near one of the steel mills in Buffalo, was fired on without warning.

On returning from France he went to work in the steel mill and found conditions such that he went out with the other strikers when they struck for better conditions. He had fought for democracy only to find that he had to take employment under industrial autocracy when he returned.

If the ship of state were not so well painted with ideals and popular phrases, we could see more of the holes in the old craft above and below the water line. One group of statesmen, for instance, is telling us that the treaty ought not to be ratified because of the wicked Shantung clause; another group tells us it should be because Shantung will soon be returned to China.

All of these arguments are mere paint to cover rotten planks. Japan had to have Shantung as he share because the peace congress divided the whole defenseless world among the assembled nations. It is a mighty small share, too, considering what the others got.

America took over 1,000,000 tons of German shipping and time will show that she got a free hand in Mexico, Central America and South America. France takes big slices of Africa, Alsace-Lorraine, the Saar valley, and other parts of the Rhine valley. But England gets most of all. Here are some of her gains:

Control of Egypt formally recognized. Control of Persia formally recognized. Protectorate over Afghanistan and eastern Turkistan. Control of western Siam. Six hundred thousand square miles in Africa outside of Egypt.

Most of Arabia and other parts of the Turkish empire to the amount of over 100,000 square miles.

That put under British influence. In China, England is given political as well as commercial control over the provinces of Soochuen and Swantung and the rich Yangtze valley—750,000 square miles and over 200,000,000 people.

England, in fact, has gained territory in Asia larger than the continental area of the United States. What tremendous privilege it is then for our statesmen to rave about the little which Japan or Italy has taken!

Persons who as children used to thrill with emotion when reading the story of how William Tell refused to bow to the tyrant Gessler's hat, was outlawed, and later led Switzerland to independence, will be reminded of the old times when they read the following order issued by the British government in India:

"Whereas, it has come to my notice that certain inhabitants of the Lyallpur district are habitually exhibiting a lack of respect for gazetted European or civil and military officers of his majesty's services, thereby failing to maintain the dignity of the government, I hereby order that the inhabitants of the Lyallpur district shall accord the salutation to all such officers whenever met. That is to say, persons riding on animals or on or in wheeled conveyances, will alight, persons carrying open and raised umbrellas shall lower them, and all persons shall salute or 'salaam' with the hand."

(Signed) "A. A. HODGSON," "Care Officer, Lyallpur."

And here is another item of interest for us in it. Suppose some Hindu William Tell refuses to get down off his beast of burden, is outlawed, and later leads his country to war for independence. Will our sympathies still be with Tell or will we, as part of the league of nations, help to catch this enemy of "law and order"? The answer depends not so much on what article 10 means as on whether America gets a rebirth of the Tell spirit.

Some European papers are making much of the shooting of Mlle. Lanorde by a squad of French army officers. This woman, who is a graduate of the University of Paris and at one time a teacher in the Superior Normal school at Suresne, France, was found guilty of distributing "Bolshevik literature" among the French troops at Odessa.

After she had been tried and sentenced to death with speed, it was found that no platoon of soldiers would carry out the sentence. So the officers hurried her away at night and did themselves what the soldiers, to a man, felt was unworthy of a Frenchman.

Siberia cost 104 American lives. One out of every five killed is a suicide. What a reflection this appalling ratio of one to five is on conditions which our boys are facing there! Think of what a healthy, vigorous young man will put up with before he takes this course of last resort!

Another indication is the fact that many of them are committing small crimes so as to be sentenced to prison at home, and our government sends these misguided homesick men to the hell-hole of Alcatraz, the federal military prison in San Francisco bay. The boys themselves are unable to tell us of what they are going through because of the government censorship.

Those who adhere to the doctrine of "my country right or wrong" which is the same as saying anything is right which force makes possible, would naturally be alarmed at such mutiny in the ranks of the common soldiers. A soldier's duty, as the Kaiser used to say, is to shoot his own father if so ordered. But common men are beginning to question this doctrine of absolute obedience to "superiors," and with it comes the hope that the natural sense of right of the common man will have a deciding voice in world affairs.

Probably every French soldier at Odessa realized that he had no business there, that a war was being made against an unoffending people. France later had to withdraw because of this feeling. French officers knew the same thing, but their military caste kept them from refusing to fight in an unworthy cause, or from refusing to take the life of a French woman who felt it her supreme duty to set her country right.

We also hear of an American corporal being flogged by Cossacks due to the strained feelings between the American army and the Cossack chiefs whom we are supposed to be aiding to restore representative government. News dispatches, however, admit that these chiefs are little more than bandits, and one goes by the name of the Siberian villa. This incident throws light on why our troops are there.

Kolchak and the lesser bandits are tools of Japan in an effort to grab concessions. We are there to get these concessions for ourselves and European nations and not to help the Russian people. Kolchak, if successful, would be a Siberian Diaz and would sell off concessions just as Diaz sold state property and became many times a millionaire. Thus we see why Japanese troops side with the Cossacks over the flogging incident.

Dinner Stories

When President Wilson appeared in Indianapolis last week the dispatches stated that the introductory remarks of the governor of Indiana were so very much extended that the big crowd grew impatient and noisy and called for the president.

It has been remarked on numerous occasions that there is no time when a man's discretion is more apt to run wild than when he acts as a presiding officer with an introduction on his lips. It is related of Gladstone that on some special occasion he was asked to speak in an inland town where the presiding officer grew so tiresome in his introduction that the patience of the old statesman was entirely exhausted.

Finally the introduction was concluded in these words:

"I now present Mr. Gladstone who will give you his address."

Whereupon the great man arose heavily and said: "My address is Parliament building, London. Good night."

When the etiquette of the speaker's table is written it should include under the head of "Terse and Appropriate Introductions" the tabloid speech made by Bascom Little, then president of the chamber of commerce, at the Wilson meeting in Grays' armory, Cleveland, January 29, 1910. Here it is:

"Ladies and gentlemen, I introduce to you the president of the United States."

Little Denis, out for a walk with mother, noticed a poor, ragged little urchin.

"Yes, dear," said mother. "That poor little boy has no father to give him toys and things, like you have. Wouldn't you like to do something for him? Wouldn't you like to give him your rabbit?"

Denis thought a moment, and then suggested:

"I'd rather give him father."

"Do you believe that is any such word as father?" asked the man in the smoking car of the man sitting next to him.

"Sure there is," was the reply. "Well, some people say that is not."

"Well, I say there is, and I ought to know."

"Why should you know more than the others?"

"Because I'm a referee in bankruptcy."

FUNNY TIMES, THESE!

To the Editor of The Capital Times: Yesterday before your office in a pouring rain, stood a crowd of men awaiting world series scores. Nothing wrong in that. No. But it is strange. The world on end. Strikes, wars, revolution. Man arrayed against principles, ideals arrayed against authority. A new era passing through the travail of realization. And the crowd. The movie-ball-series-crowd. They either know not what it is about, nor care to tax their attention with such affairs. And those to whom it does matter, they smile and sneer. Why worry about progress, freedom, economic justice. Why look at them, they don't care enough to give it their attention. Why worry about them. Yes, why worry about them. A Jesus worried about them. And he died on a cross. A Debs worried about them. And he labors in a southern prison hole. Yes, why worry about them. And yet you worry about a child. Are you not your brother's keeper? Robert S. Allen

BIG BUSINESS METHODS

To the Editor of The Capital Times: Inclosed find card handed to me this morning. This looks to me like big business is trying to flood Congress with dope to kill any chance the Plumb plan might have. But the funny part is this that these cards are handed out by a working man—a drayman by the name of Reynolds. T. B.

RAILROADS ARE NERVOUS

To the Editor of The Capital Times: The bill in Congress for the return of the railroads to their owners, recently introduced by Senator Cummins, as chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce, provides that if any railroad company shall earn in any year more than "a fair return," to be determined by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the excess above such "fair return" shall be paid to the government.

Many students of the railroad problem have pointed out that to take from a company a part of its earnings derived from reasonable rates would greatly reduce the incentive to competitive effort, efficiency and economy; would seriously discourage the new investment in railroad upbuilding; and would be likely to defeat the very object which Congress is trying to accomplish in establishing a sound financial basis for our transportation system.

The Springfield (Mass.) REPUBLICAN very concisely makes this plain in a recent editorial. The REPUBLICAN says:

"The principles of private ownership always contemplate, in any business enterprise, a stimulus to increased efficiency, sagacity and foresight through the hope or the promise of managerial talent. Remove a financial reward corresponding to the gains made by that stimulus and private ownership and operation is deprived of the very conditions under which it can show the best results in the production of wealth or the performance of economic services. Into fields of investment, consequently, where that stimulus is lacking, private capital will not be attracted; and, if private capital does not find railroad investments attractive, railroad credit will suffer and their fresh experiment in private railroad operations will fail."

Mr. Charles E. Hughes, former justice of the United States supreme court, has prepared an opinion on this section of the Cummins bill, and a copy of this opinion is sent to you herewith for your information.

Mr. Hughes holds that when freight and passenger rates are fair and reasonable, as they must be presumed to be when approved by the public regulating bodies, then the earnings from these rates belong to carriers and cannot be taken from them except by due process of law. Mr. Hughes points out that these earnings may be taxed, but that they cannot be seized or appropriated.

THE HOME GIRL

The golden age for woman, they inform us, is at hand. Though just exactly what it is, is hard to understand. We're given ample warning that the time is coming when they're going to dominate the field, now occupied by men. They're getting into politics, and glory in the strife. They're cutting quite a figure in the realms of business life. Now this may be the stylish thing, but it must be confessed that after all is said and done, we like the home girl best.

Her biscuits may not be the best ever made right on the spot; Her pie crust may not be so stiff and may refuse to part; Her corned beef hash may taste just like a huff rag in distress; Her soup may be enough to make a criminal confess; But still it makes a feller glad, wherever he may roam. To think that this old-fashioned girl waits his arrival home. Of course, you know, there's not a doubt that we like all the rest, but, getting squarely down to facts, we like the home girl best.

SHE'S TWO HUNDRED PER CENT AMERICAN

Dear Roy—A young lady, who is absolutely 100 per cent American, confesses she has two sweethearts with the army of occupation and begs we write you requesting you to please answer the following question:

If two American soldiers were detailed for "picket duty" near Warsaw for a period of five years, would they automatically become Poles?

Why do not our creditors call us on the phone instead of mailing statements? Then they would never get us.
